

TIDE: Dialogues of Change John Muir Open Exhibition

- North Light Arts present a dialogue around environmental change and sustainability that will be developed in the exhibition by eleven selected artists each exhibiting very individual works while raising a joint conversation about the environmental changes we are all faced with.
- The exhibitors are: Jenny Pope Dr A McNiven, Ellis O'Connor, Emily Joy, Giulia Gentili, Julia Barton, Karen Gabbitas, Natalie Taylor, Sam Anderson and Saffy Setohy and Joanna Young (collaborating nationally with: Aya Kobayashi, Nicolette Mcleod and Jamie Grier)
- Thursday 20th, Friday 21st and Saturday 22nd June Join Julia Barton (award winning environmental artist) Dunbar Harbour during Civic Week, she will be making two large sculptures #LitterCUBES from plastic marine litter collected from local beaches and around the harbour
- Thursday 20 June Evening conversation - Julia Barton of the LittoralArt project with other local specialists talking plastics join the dialogue
- Exhibition begins Friday 24 May - Opening Saturday 25 May 2 to 4pm
- Open each day 1 to 4pm till 23 June
- Town House Museum & Gallery Dunbar High Street EH42 1ER Tel 01620 820699
- Supported by East Lothian Council Arts Service.

Press contact:

Susie Goodwin
Creative Director
North Light Arts
contact.northlightarts@gmail.com
www.northlightarts.org.uk
01368 840471

Further information - Julia Barton LittoralArt project

Join Julia Barton (award winning environmental artist) Dunbar Harbour during Civic Week, she will be making two large sculptures #LitterCUBES from plastic marine litter collected from local beaches and around the harbour.

The sculptures will highlight the volume of the most common types of litter we find here. On June Thursday 20th, Friday 21st and Saturday 22nd, Julia will be inviting audiences help weigh the sculptures and calculate the amount of energy each #LitterCUBE represents in terms of litres of petrol. The Dunbar #LitterCUBES will go on to form part of a national #LitterCUBE collection which will be exhibited at the 2020 Edinburgh International Science Festival. Julia will also be working with local schools during Civic Week.

Help to promote clean seas and beaches: please collect plastic drinks bottles, net ends, cotton bud sticks and strapping. Collection point at Dunbar Harbour. If you would like to get involved: volunteer to help to collect litter items or help run the events at the harbour on 20, 21, 22 June please contact Julia at: littoralartproject@btinternet.com www.littoralartproject.com

